

Dear Faculty.

My name is Larry Jay Tish and I am the co-creator of the social justice comedy "The Black-Jew Dialogues". We are currently working with _____ of the _____ office to bring our program to campus.

We are sending you this letter because we believe our program would make a good compliment to you existing classroom content. We have developed this and other tools as part of what we call "Dialogues on Diversity" We urge you to go to our website:

<http://www.dialoguesondiversity.com>

to learn more about what we are trying to accomplish with our programs.

The Black-Jew Dialogues objective is to not only entertain our audience, but also to engage them in what we believe is a necessary and vital dialogue about race, culture and difference in America. This conversation is happening on campuses across the country. With that in mind, we try to work not only with the programming agencies on campus, but with faculty to support your work in the classroom however we can.

Our hope is that you will be willing to have you class join us for our performance on _____ and take part in our post show discussion. Additionally, we can even join you in your classroom for discussion if the timing of our arrival and performance times can work together. We would love to speak to you about this and other ideas you may have for how we can use our resources to help you reach your academic objectives. We have worked with many schools and faculty to coordinate classroom visits and workshops.

You can reach me directly at larry@dialoguesondiversity.com

my warmest regards,

Larry Jay Tish – Managing Director
Dialogues on Diversity
617-792-5053/larry@dialoguesondiversity.com